MAJOR RESTORES FULL CITIZENSHIP TO J. T. WEISMAN

Governor Grants Petition Signed
by Politicians on Behalf of Paroled Convict.

SENTENCED IN DEC., 1911

"Boots" Brennan, and "Jimmy"
Miles Among Those Who Sought His Release.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
JEFFERSON CITY, Jan. 7.—Gov.
Major, who paroled Joseph T. Weisman of St. Louis out of the penitentiary on March 24, 1913, restored him to citizenship.
Weisman was convicted of fraudulent registration prior to the election of 1910 and was sentenced to two years
from Dec. 19, 1911.

Among those recommending the restoration of Weisman's citizenship are W.
J. Brennan, James Miles, Daniel E.
Naughton, Thomas H. Quinn, John P.
Collins, James J. Sheehan and Judge C.
Drick, Bishop.

With the exception of Assistant Circuit Attorney Bishop, all of those who signed the recommendation have long been active in Democratic ward politics
of the most practical kind.

Weisman is a Miles Lieutenant.
W. J. Brennan, also known as "Boots" Brennan, was long a political leader in the old Sixteenth, now the Fourth Ward. He is a political lieutenant of another of the signers, Justice "Jimmy" Miles, boss of the Fourth Ward. Brennan served several terms in the House of Delegates. He and Miles supported Major in a primary fight in their ward
before the last gubernatorial election.

"Daniel Naughton formerly was clerk of the House of Delegates. He was convicted of bribery in connection with the Anchor garage bill in 1908, but the conviction was set aside by the State Supreme Court. John P. Collins is a State Senator and has long been a practical politician in the river wards. Quinn and Sheehan also have been politically active.

Weisman indicted for complicity in President's registration of negroes in the Fifteenth Ward prior to the general election of 1905. He was convicted in 1911 and sentenced to serve two years in the penitentiary.

It was alleged that Calvin Branch and several other negroes had padded
the registration lists at the instance of Weisman.

When these frauds first became known Weisman was not suspected, and it was the general belief that another politician and ward leader was responsible.

There was great surprise in the ranks of the politicians when it was learned that Weisman had walked into the office of Circuit Attorney Jones and said that he and no one else was responsible for the fraudulent registrations.

Weisman was a Republican and the suspected politician was a Democrat.

The negroes who had falsely registered themselves against Weisman at the trial
and their testimony caused his conviction.

Assistant Circuit Attorney Bishop
Wednesday told a Post-Dispatch reporter that he signed the petition for Weisman's restoration to citizenship because he believed Weisman had been automatically pardoned.

"He served his time until his sentence was suspended by the Governor's parole
and investigation has shown that he has behaved himself since his release from prison," said Bishop. "Many large petitions for restoration have been effective and I see no reason why it shouldn't be done in Weisman's case."

MICHAEL J. CULLEN,
LIVERYMAN, DIES AT 67

Michael J. Cullen, 67 years old, head of the livery and undertaking firm of Cullen & Kelly, died at 1:15 p. m., Wednesday, at his home, 2733 Cass avenue, after an illness of nine days.

He was stricken with paralysis at a dinner party which he attended, with his wife, a week ago Monday night, and had to be taken home in a carriage.

Cullen's first wife died a few years ago
and he recently married her sister, Miss Doris Hanneberry. He was one of the best-known men in his business, having established at 738 Cass avenue and at Taylor and Easton avenues. His firm was the first to introduce the white bridal carriage in St. Louis.

At his place of business it was learned that Cullen, last week, partly recovered from his first attack, and was able to attend a funeral Sunday, but had a chill after returning home. After that he was confined to his bed. His partner, Patrick J. Kelly, died Aug. 2 last.
Kelly was 59 years old. Cullen left no children.

PRESIDENT COMMUTES
MAJOR HUGHES' SENTENCE

cations, will now only 15 months.

President Wilson, in view of Major Hughes' "excellent" record in the war with Spain and unimpeachable recommendation of the court of clemency, commuted the sentence.

RELEASE OF THAW SAFE, CUSTODIANS ASSERT ON STAND

Sheriff and Policeman, With Him Since September, Say He Shows No Sign of Violence.

MOTHER AT THE HEARING

New Hampshire Commission to Decide if Matteawan Fugitive May Give Bail.

By Associated Press.
CONCORD, N. H., Jan. 7.—The release on bail of Harry K. Thaw would not menace public safety, in opinions expressed by two of his custodians today,
at a public hearing before the commission appointed by the Federal Court to pass on the subject of Thaw's mental condition and its relation to his liberation under bonds.

Sheriff Drew and Patrolman Stevens,
who have had Thaw in charge since September, favored his admission to bail.

Thaw and his mother were present with counsel. None of the legal representatives of New York State was in attendance when the hearing opened.

Sheriff Drew told of his close relations with Thaw during the period of his custodianship. During that time he said Thaw had not shown any tendency toward violence and had manifested no ill temper, no irritability and no lack of self-control.

Thaw's mother was more nervous and excited when first arrested
at Colebrook after his deportation from Canada and also showed some excitement when he was denounced at the extradition hearing before Gov. Folger by William T. Jerome, special deputy Attorney-General of New York, "but no more than any man would be under the same circumstances," added the witness.

Thaw was a pleasant companion,
under all circumstances and in conversations upon current topics displayed
"wonderful insight," the witness said.
The Sheriff did not consider him suffering from exaggeration of the ego.

Policeman Stevens, who occupies a sleeping room with the prisoner and accompanies him on his walks, described Thaw as a "perfect gentleman." He said he wished he had Thaw's conversational ability. The principal difference between Thaw and other men, in his opinion, was that Thaw was more kind than the general run of the witnesses' acquaintances.

Stevens said that Thaw's wife had never been mentioned in their conversations. No anger or resentment towards any public official or other person with whom his past had been connected had ever been shown in his presence by his charge, whose conduct had been characterized by commonsense. The witness had never seen anything about the prisoner to make him feel that Thaw was a public menace.

Jerome Not to Appear.
Before adjourning the hearing without date, Gen. Frank S. Streeter stated for the commission that Jerome had decided not to appear, because the scope of the commission's inquiry was so limited.

"It seems obvious," the commissioner said, "that Mr. Jerome greatly misapprehended the Court's order and the scope of the commission's powers and duties thereunder. Unlimited powers appear to have been conferred on the commission to enable it to perform its duty of advising the Court on the only question submitted, whether Thaw's liberty on bail would menace public safety."

CHAMBERLAIN TO RETIRE AFTER 38 YEARS' SERVICE

Venerable British Statesman Will Leave Parliament at Next General Election.

BIRMINGHAM, England, Jan. 7.—Joseph Chamberlain, the venerable British statesman, has decided to retire from Parliament at the next general election.
He has served continuously as a member of the House of Commons since 1876, all this time representing West Birmingham.

In a letter addressed today to the president of the Unionist Association of Birmingham, Mr. Chamberlain says:
"I have not come to this decision without many regrets at the severance of a connection which has already lasted over 37 years. But I cannot hope again to do my work in Parliament and I feel that our city and the constituency
of West Birmingham need the services of a younger man."

Mr. Chamberlain leaves Highbury, his residence at Birmingham, next week for London. There has been no change for the worse in Mr. Chamberlain's health recently. It is, however, nearly eight years since he spoke in the House of Commons and nearly three years since he appeared there.

Joseph Chamberlain at the outset of his political career was a Radical. He served under William Ewart Gladstone in several cabinets as president of the Board of trade and president of the Local Government Board. He became a Unionist at the time of the break in the Liberal party over home rule for Ireland, and he was Secretary of State for the colonies at the time of the Boer War. He is now 78 years old. Mr.
Chamberlain has been married three times.

It is generally expected that Nevil-Chamberlain, a younger son of the retiring statesman, will become Unionist candidate for West Birmingham in succession to his father.

TREATS "DISLOCATED
ATLAS," IS ARRESTED

W. M. David Is Charged in Warrant With Holding Himself
Out as a Physician.

William M. David of 406 Delmar boulevard, who says he is an osteopath
and who was arrested by detectives
after treating Jefferson Rogers, 39 years old, of 823 South Eleventh street, for a "dislocated atlas," Christmas day, is charged with holding himself out as a registered physician, in a warrant issued, Wednesday, by Assistant Circuit Attorney Wilson.

In Wilson's office, Mrs. Miranda Seagars, Rogers' aunt, with whom he lives, said that her nephew was often afflicted with severe headaches and convulsions due to injuries received in an accident in nine years ago.

She declared David, who responded to her call for a physician, came to her home and applied an electric vibrator to Rogers' spine, diagnosing the case as a "dislocated atlas."

Her suspicions led her to report the case, she said, and David's arrest followed. He was released on $500 bond, pending investigation and the filing of a charge. Rogers is now in the Physicians' and Surgeons' Hospital at 240 North Grand avenue, where he underwent an operation, Tuesday, for depression of the skull.

ASTOR LEFT $85,890,826

Reappraisal Adds $4,109,321 to Widow's Share in Estate.

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—The gross
value of the estate of the late Colonel John Jacob Astor, one of the victims of the Titanic disaster, is $85, 890,826, according to a report filed in the Surrogate's court here.

The reappraisal, which was made for the purpose of fixing the status of certain properties transferred by Colonel Astor to Mrs. Madeline Force
Astor in an ante-nuptial agreement adds another $4,109,321 to the latter's share of the estate.

Deductions due to the reappraisal

HUSBAND AROUSED, FOUND TO HAVE TAKEN POISON

Doctor's Efforts to Save Life of
C. M. Trustel, a Bakery
Wagon Driver, Fail.

When Mrs. Josephine T. Trustel of 307
California avenue tried to arouse her husband, Charles M. Trustel, 35 years old, a bread wagon driver, at 1:35 a. m.
Wednesday, he groaned and waved her aside.

"You needn't try to get me up," he said, "I've taken poison."

Mrs. Trustel swooned, but her daughter, Margaret, had a physician summoned. While the doctor was working on him, at 2:15 a. m., Trustel died.

Mrs. Trustel said her husband had been suffering from stomach trouble.

Los Angeles Police Believe That

By Associated Press.
LOS ANGELES, Cal., Jan. 7.—Efforts made today to establish a motive for the double murder and suicide which caused the deaths of W. M. Melton, a local attorney; Mrs. Mary Graves Cox of San Francisco and the latter's daughter, Florence, 12 years old, last night, proved futile. Lodgers in the house where the tragedy occurred, said that when last seen alive together, Melton and Mrs. Cox appeared to be on the best of terms.

Melton received four wounds, any one of which would have proved fatal. Mrs.
Cox was shot once. Around the wound,
which was in her head, were powder
marks, indicating that the pistol had been held very close.

FORMER OKLAHOMA TRAIN ROBBER TO RUN FOR GOVERNOR

Al. J. Jennings Decides to Seek Nomination on Democratic Ticket.

RAPS POLITICAL THIEVES

Declares He Will Expose Present Party Leaders "Who Are Only Spoilsmen."

Leased Wire From the New York
Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—Al J. Jennings,
former train robber and Federal prisoner,
who won the Democratic nomination for County Attorney of Oklahoma County, Okla., in 1912, will announce his candidacy for the governorship of the State of Oklahoma when he returns to his home, week after next. Jennings was at the Hotel Wolcott yesterday and outlined his platform and plan of campaign.

"I am entering the race for the governorship," he said, "as a Democrat. Many of my friends have urged me to seek an independent nomination, but I have always been a Democrat and want to stay in the party. My object is to clean up the party in Oklahoma, to drive out of it the present leaders, who claim to be Democrats, but who are only spoilsmen. I intend to fight the double-dealing political thieves with whom no self-respecting outlaw of former years can associate.

"All I want is to see absolutely honest men at the head of the Government,
and, after I have announced my candidacy, if some man whose integrity and uprightness is unquestioned becomes a candidate I shall withdraw and support him with all of my ability. If I find that there is another honest man in the field besides myself I will not help elect a machine man by staying in the race to split the vote."

How He Became Reformer.
"Some people do not seem to be able to understand how an outlaw, once a train robber and a Federal prisoner, can become sincerely law-abiding and a reformer in politics, but explanation is simple. I made a mistake and defied the law. I was caught and punished.
I kept five years in prison, and then saw
how I had been wrong to become an enemy of society. I decided to reclaim my place in society, and set about doing it.
I was in a free community. I began to appreciate the differences in law-breaking and the consequences thereof and that made me a political reformer.

"I had been a train robber, a crude, puny defiler of society, and I had been caught and punished. I saw all about the men who were the best clothes and stood high in society robbing the people right and left and not getting caught or being punished. They were not as primitive as I had been in the methods
they chose. They did things in the dark, and only appeared in the open when they had on their Sunday clothes, so to speak.
But, tell me, what is the difference between the man who holds up a train
at the point of a gun and he who steals the treasury of a state? The only difference I can see is that the train robber is at least honest in acknowledging his character, while the spoilsman
leads a double life."

Says He Will Expose Crooks.
"I will turn the tables," he said, "and speak from street corners and halls whenever I can. I intend to speak in every county of the State as often as possible. I shall be aggressive and talk straight. I shall name the political crooks in the open and show my evidence against them. There are one or two that are at present highly respected in the country whom I shall expose without mercy."

Jennings was a train robber in Oklahoma and the Southwest for several years before his final capture in 1908 and subsequent conviction in Federal Court. He served five years in the prison at Columbus, O., before being pardoned by President McKinley. President Roosevelt later restored his citizenship, and he began the practice of law in Oklahoma City. In 1912 he ran for the Democratic nomination as County Attorney of Oklahoma County against six other candidates and barely was beaten.

TENT SHOW MEN MAKE PLEAS FOR PERMITS

City Officials Consider Proposition to Let Places Run Until Next Winter.

About 50 proprietors of tent moving picture shows conferred with Mayor Kiel, Building Commissioner McKelvey
and Associate City Counselor Young Wednesday in the Mayor's office relative to reissuance of permits.
The Building Commissioner had ruled that a tent is a building and that, inasmuch as the law forbids theatrical entertainments being given in anything but a first-class building, permits should not be issued for the tent shows, which are now in first-class buildings. Some of the tent show proprietors have obtained injunctions restraining the city authorities from interfering with them.
Daniel Dillon, an attorney, representing some of the picture show men, proposed that if they were permitted to continue until next winter they would then go out of business or establish themselves in first-class buildings. The other attorneys said they would have to confer with their clients before submitting any proposition. It is thought probable that Mayor Kiel will consent to their continuance if they will all agree to the Dillon proposition.

MISSOURIANS JOIN SUIT TO BREAK $2,000,000 WILL

Shiber Estate, One of Richest in West Virginia, Left Heirs, Not Blood Relatives.

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., Jan. 7.—One of the largest estates in West Virginia,
involving oil, gas and coal lands in Mon-ongalia County, was brought into litigation Tuesday when a suit was filed to set aside the will of Coloman Shiber, who died a year ago. The suit is in behalf of Hiram Hill, Memphis, Mo.; J. W.
Shiber, Rich Hill, Mo.; Isaac and Charles
E. Shiber, Lone Mount, Colo., and Asa Shiber, Waco, Mo., children of B. O.
Shiber, brother of the testator. Undue influence is alleged. The estate is valued at $2,000,000.

The Shiber brothers owned the land in common, but a controversy arose, and B.
O. Shiber sold out to his brother and went West, where he prospered. In the meantime the old home farm became a great oil, gas and coal producer. The will of Coloman Shiber leaves his estate to Henry D. Shiber and heirs and Leroy Taylor, Morgantown, the latter deceased.
Neither has a blood relative. Leroy Taylor's direct heir is Martha Virginia Taylor, aged 6, who has been awarded $200,000 under the will.

TWO MEN ARRESTED FOR OGGLING GIRLS ON STREET

Couple Who Say They Are Merchants Identified as Men in Swindle Attempt.

Detective John Hannigan was standing in the Olive street entrance of the Syndicate Trust building, Tenth and Olive streets, Wednesday afternoon, when he noticed two men who were ogling girls and women and trying to attract their attention. He arrested them and took them to police headquarters. They said they were Collins and Jones, dry goods
merchants of Little Rock, Ark., here making purchases, and pretended to be offended at their arrest.

Ellis Hoagland, of the Bureau of Identification, identified them as George Russell and C. S. Wheeler, who were arrested Dec. 10 at Little Rock, Ark., on the charge that they and a third man attempted to fleece a farmer out of $200 by a fake foot race. They admitted their identity and were held for investigation.

MASSACHUSETTS G. O. P. CONTROL IS THREATENED

BOSTON, Jan. 7.—The possibility of a coalition of Democratic and Progressives in an effort to prevent the re-election of Gratton D. Cushing, Republican, as Speaker of the House of Representatives, caused unusual interest in the convening of the Massachusetts Legislature today for its annual session. For many years the Republicans have controlled both House and Senate, but in the House this session the Republican membership of 118 is four less than a majority. There are 101 Democrats, 18 Progressives and one Socialist.

As the Republicans have a majority of four in the Senate, they were able to control the organization of that branch and elect Calvin Coolidge of Northampton, president.

David I. Walsh, Democrat, will take office as Governor tomorrow.

FOLK'S STATE PLAN FOR PRESIDENTIAL PRIMARY INDORSED

Common Counsel Club Appoints Committee, Missourian at Its Head, to Draft Bill.

By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—Plans for putting into effect the presidential preference primary idea, suggested by President Wilson in a recent message to Congress, were discussed here by Democratic leaders at a luncheon given by the Common Counsel Club Tuesday. A plan of state primaries proposed by Joseph W. Folk, Solicitor of the State Department, was supported by other speakers, including Secretaries Redfield and Wilson, Senator Owen, Louis D. Brandeis, Assistant Secretary Hamlin of the Treasury Department and John Burke,
Treasurer of the United States.

A committee with Folk as chairman was nominated to draft a plan for the state primary method of nominating Presidents. If the committee's report is adopted at the next meeting of the club,
it probably will be presented to the meeting in May of the House of Governors, and the committee will urge Congress to adopt legislation necessary for making the plan operative.

Would Protect State's Rights.
Opposition to presidential preference
primaries, Folk told the club, had been due largely to belief that it would "injure with the rights of the states to regulate and conduct their own elections." For this reason he said he was for the state plan.

"There should be little difficulty," Folk declared, "in working out such a system, and an amendment to the Constitution, it seems, would not be required to carry this plan into effect. Congress might by law authorize presidential preference primaries to be held under the laws of the states as state primaries are now held."

A bill to provide for primary elections
at which voters of all parties may choose their nominees for the presidency has been completed by Representative Rucker of Missouri, chairman of the House Committee on Election of President and Vice-President to carry out the administration's plan.

Measure to Come Up Tuesday.
The measure will be taken up by the committee next Tuesday and probably immediately afterward will be reported back to the House and pressed through that body.

Rucker has conferred with Secretary
Bryan and other administration officials in preparing his measure. It provides for retaining party conventions only for declaring and accepting the results of the primaries and for formulating the platform of the party.

The trust question was discussed during the meeting and some difference of opinion arose between Secretary Redfield and Brandeis as to the best method of dealing with combines. Brandeis insisted that his advocated method of vigorous prosecution was best, while Secretary Redfield held that the party should not proceed too rapidly in this work.

NONUNION MEN BEATEN

Two Garment Workers Are Attacked Near Their Homes.

Two men employed in garment factory in place of strikers were beaten near their homes shortly before 7
p. m. Tuesday, according to complaints made to the police.

Jacob Warner of 922 North Fourteenth street said he was attacked by three men in front of his house, and got in a scuffle. He was badly hurt. J. M. Lewis of 1077 Selby place, said he was dragged around the corner to Wash street, and pummeled by four men. A policeman appeared in the distance, and the men fled, one of them dropping his hat. The name in the hat was "Harry Tanner."

failed to save his life.

WHITE NEIGHBORS CAUSE NEGROES TO ABANDON SALOON

They Close Place at 4251 Easton When Woman Leads Movement Against Them.

Two negroes bought John Krause's saloon at 4251 Easton avenue, but abandoned it Tuesday, when white residents of the neighborhood informed them
they better had seek another neighborhood for their business.

Mrs. Charles M. Hopper of 4248 A Easton avenue, a widow, led the complaining forces. She told a Post-Dispatch reporter Wednesday the negroes also were preparing to move into an apartment across the hall from the one she occupied with Lo Rena Stewart, her daughter by a former marriage, who is employed in a downtown department store. The apartment recently had been vacated by Krause, who lived there when he owned the saloon next door.

"We had an experience with two young negroes one night a few weeks ago that I never shall forget," Mrs.
Hopper said. "The negroes waited in the hall outside our apartment, contending they had been to the saloon keeper's apartment to obtain liquor. They followed my daughter down the steps and on an eastbound Westfall car. My daughter left the car when it arrived in front of the home of a friend and saw no more of the negroes."

Mrs. Hopper and her daughter told neighbors of this incident at the time and shortly afterward, she says, the saloon keeper moved his family away.
She heard two negroes in the hall talking Monday about their preparations to move into the apartments the saloon keeper had vacated.

"You'll do nothing of the kind!" Mrs.
Hopper exclaimed, as she opened a door
and ordered the negroes off of the premises. "Only white persons live in this neighborhood."

One of the negroes asserted that he was running the saloon and intended residing in the flat. Mrs. Hopper conferred with Adam Goldstein, a grocer, at 287 Easton avenue. Lo Rena believed other neighbors to join with them to keep out the negroes, and a movement was started for a neighborhood demonstration to bar them either in business or as residents.

Excise Commissioner Anderson learned Krause had vacated the saloon and ordered it closed. When a policeman arrived at the premises Tuesday he found the negroes already had closed it and departed.

Mrs. Charles Klaus of 4238 Marfitt avenue, who owns the building and flat, her daughter, Mrs. Mamie Harrison, said her mother had leased the property to a brewery.

Many Can Afford This Grand Piano
at $455!

No instrument on our floor better illustrates the average price of a piano in the Vandervoort store than the Brambach Baby Grand Piano.

Here is a piano forte that is a gem—in tone and architecture. A real grand piano, built into the dimensions of an upright. Judged by all that this wonderful new creation is—its price should be fully double that which we actually ask—$455. Such is the case with all of our pianos and player-pianos.

If you have ever priced a grand piano, this reasonable price will amaze you. If you will come and test this Brambach you will still be amazed. Nor will you be satisfied until you own one.

The terms—$25 first payment and $10 per month.

500 SHOE STRIKERS PARADE, FOUR HELD AFTER A RIOT CALL

Police Break up Demonstration of United Workers at Hamilton-Brown Factories.

32 PATROLMEN AT SCENE

Members of Rival Union Hooted
as They Report at Plants;
Other Parades Planned.

A demonstration and parade by 500 striking shoe workers in front of the Hamilton-Brown Shoe Co. factories at Eighth and Marion streets and Twenty-first and Locust streets, Wednesday morning, resulted in a riot call at Central Police Station and the arrest of four strikers.

The demonstration was planned by the United Shoe Workers' Union to arouse sentiment against the action of the shoe company in employing only members of the Boot and Shoe Workers' Union, a rival organization, affiliated with the American Federation of Labor.

While members of the rival union were going to work, more than 200 strikers, including many young girls, gathered at the Sunlight factory, Eighth and Marion streets, and after a demonstration there marched to the Security, American Lady and American Gentleman factories at Twenty-first and Locust streets, where they were joined by 30 more strikers.

The cheering and yelling of the crowd led someone to turn in a riot call, after a patrolman had ordered the crowd to disperse.

Capt. O'Brien at Central police station, in response to the call, sent the entire traffic squad of 32 policemen to the scene. The crowd was dispersed after four arrests had been made.

The demonstration was planned by the United Shoe Workers' Union to arouse sentiment against the action of the shoe company in employing only members of the Boot and Shoe Workers' Union, a rival organization, affiliated with the American Federation of Labor.

A FRIEND TO THE WORKINGMAN

Five years ago I was so troubled with kidney trouble and inflammation of the bladder that I had to cease working my farm. Life looked dark to me until I heard of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root through a cured friend. I tried a bottle and began to feel better at once. After using five or six bottles I felt fine and have continued to work as I had before my affliction.

I want to state that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is a kidney medicine that will cure and I owe my good work during the past five or six years to it.

Yours very truly,
C. W. MORRIS,
Prescott, Ark.

Subscribed and sworn to before me, this 27th day of March, 1912.

SEMINARY GRADUATE WHO IS MARRIED

MRS. PERRY N. MOORE.

MRS. PERRY N. MOORE.

Society

Perry N. Moore, son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip N. Moore of 3135 Lafayette avenue, and Mrs. Hazel Gregory Baler, daughter of Mr. T. C. Gregory, 3223 Washington boulevard, were married at 11:30 Wednesday morning, in the parlors of the First Congregational Church, 310 Delmar boulevard, by the pastor, the Rev. Horace F. Holton, a life long friend of both families.

Only the immediate relatives witnessed the ceremony. The bride was given in marriage by her brother, George W. Gregory. She was dressed for traveling in a green broadcloth suit with hat to match. Immediately following the wedding Moore and his bride departed for a honeymoon in the East. They will return to St. Louis about Feb. 1 and be at home at 3135 Lafayette avenue.

Mrs. Moore is the widow of Jerome S. Baler, a member of the St. Louis bar, who died four years ago.

One of the notable weddings of the season, and of much interest in the fashionable Liederkreis and Century Club sets, was the marriage Tuesday evening of Miss Eugenia Antonia Hauke, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Eugene Hauke and Oscar Edward Buder. The ceremony was at the home of the bride, 3554 Flora boulevard, at 6:30 o'clock, the Rev. W. F. McMillan of the Lafayette Park Presbyterian Church officiating. A dinner followed for the families of the bride and bridegroom.

Mrs. A. C. Erker, the bride's sister, was matron of honor and the bridegroom's brother, G. A. Buder, was best man. The bride wore an exquisite gown of white satin that was a foundation for quantities of point and duchesse lace. The entire train was of the same lace. The coronet made of orange blossoms. The bride veil was of tulle and was held in place with orange blossoms. She carried white orchids and lilies of the valley. Mrs. Erker wore a gown of orchid-colored velvet and carried a bouquet of orchids and lilies of the valley. Mr. Buder and his bride are going abroad to spend their honeymoon and departed Tuesday night for New York. They will sail Saturday on the Adriatic for Italy.

Miss Veronica Estelle Furey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Furey of 4181 Westminster place, and Patrick H. Phelan, Jr. of Memphis, Tenn., were married Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the New Cathedral Chapel by the Rev. Father P. P. Crane. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white crepe meteor with an over drapery of hand-embroidered net. Her veil was arranged into a cap and was held in place with orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley. Her sister, Mrs. J. D. Nolan of Chicago, was matron of honor and wore pink gown. Mrs. A. C. Erker, the bride's sister, was matron of honor and the bridegroom's brother, G. A. Buder, was best man. ## SOCIETY IN GAY COSTUMES AT BALL AT ST. LOUIS CLUB

Twelfth Night Mask Affair in Snow-Like Room Attended
by 300 Persons.

In a ballroom decorated to represent a snow scene, about 300 members of St. Louis fashionable society enjoyed a Twelfth Night Ball Masque, given at the St. Louis Club Tuesday evening by Mr. and Mrs. William Cullen McBride in honor of their debutante daughter, Miss Kathleen McBride.

There were Pierrots and Pierrots, soldiers and sailors, courtiers and Spanish ladies, and all nations were depicted by costumed guests.

Miss Kathleen McBride went as the Spirit of Snow, in a white satin gown covered with crystals and wore on her head a cap of crystals with Mercury wings.

Miss Ellen McBride was a shepherdess, and their guest, Miss Ruth de Coster, of St. Paul, was a Sumuran girl in an oriental costume. Mrs. McBride's niece, Miss Clara Crotty, was an Italian girl.

The receiving party was held outside the ballroom on the broad platform of the stairway, where spring reigned. The walls and ceiling were lined with smilax and everything was green.

Receiving with Mrs. McBride were Mesmes J. L. D. Morrison, Adair D. Scott, John O'Fallon Deland and David G. Swager.

The dining room was decorated to represent summer and in the center of the room was the debauchee's table, laid for 31 "buds" and their cavaliers, at which Miss Kathleen McBride presided.

Among those who wore attractive costumes were Misses Helen and Alice Malloy, who went as Pierrots, dressed in white brocaded satin with black pom-poms.

Mrs. Leo de Smet Carlton was a Chinese lady in a gorgeously embroidered costume, with coat and full trousers. Miss Prudence Zelbig was a star in a white ballet skirt covered with silver stars and their cavaliers, at which Miss Kathleen McBride presided.

Many of the men wore Chinese costumes and Millard Kater was in the costume of a Spanish dancing girl.

WIFE FINDS HUSBAND SELF SLAIN IN BED

Poor Health Causes Man to Drain Contents of Carbolic Acid Bottle.

Frank Phillips, 63 years old, of 2113 North Broadway was found dead in bed by his wife, Mary, Wednesday at noon. On the floor was an empty carbolic acid bottle.

Mrs. Phillips told the police her husband had complained throughout the forenoon of not feeling well and had declared that unless he felt better by noon he would kill himself. She attached no significance to the threat and went out to market. Upon her return she found him dead.

WIDOWER REJECTS WILL

by Wife, Claims Dower Rights.

Robert Latz of 676 McPherson avenue has renounced the will of his wife, Mrs. Annie Latz, who died several months ago, and has chosen to take a dower interest of one-half of the estate under the law. The couple had no children, and after providing that her husband should receive $125 a month income from her estate, she left the rest of her property, valued at $30,000, to distant relatives.

The principal legatee under the will is Lincoln Judd, a nephew of teatratix, who lives in Austria. Latz did not consider the provision for him in the will ample, according to his lawyer, Bernard Greenfelder.

BANKERS INSIST ON BIG RESERVE BANK IN NEW YORK CITY

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—Despite the apparent opposition of Secretary McAdoo of the Treasury Department and Secretary Houston of the Department of Agriculture to the proposal of New York bankers for establishment here of a regional reserve bank of overshadowing size, the witnesses who appeared at today's hearing of the Federal Reserve Organization Committee insisted unanimously that such a bank was necessary.

From the long list of New York's leading financiers who have appeared before the committee, one conspicuous name was missing. It was that of George F. Baker, who was, perhaps, the closest associate of the elder J. P. Morgan and who is a director of more important corporations than any other man in the country.

Baker's public appearances have been rare and instead of coming before the committee in person he was represented today by his son, George F. Baker Jr., vice-president of the First National Bank, of which his father is the head.

Baker sided emphatically with the majority of his predecessors before the committee.

"The Eastern district," said Baker, "should be as large as it could be made, to comply with the requirements of making eight districts. I don't know that my suggestion meets with general favor. But it would be better to have the New York district include New England, and go far enough west to include Pittsburgh."

Why theory is that this is the commercial center of the country, and whenever there have been large things to do it has generally devolved upon New York to accomplish them."

Charles Sabin, vice-president of the Guaranty Trust Co. of New York, said this city should have a regional bank sufficiently large to care for the business which naturally comes in this direction. He believed that to create such a bank this district should include New York, New England and possibly New Jersey.

St. Louis Financial Center. Joseph B. Martindale, president of the Chemical National Bank of New York, said New York, Chicago and St. Louis were the great financial centers of the country and that they would remain so. He considered it necessary to have strong banks in those cities, drawing from a large territory. The New York district, he said, should comprise all New England, New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware and Maryland, with branches at Boston and Philadelphia.

Face Looked Awfully, Burned So Could Not Sleep. Almost Crazy.
Awful Pain. Scratched All the Time. Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment 3 Weeks and Was Cured.

2014 Hamburg St., Chicago, Ill.—"I was troubled about eight months with pimples, blackheads and boils. My face looked awfully; it was so bad that I was ashamed to go to work. My face itched then I noticed that it was getting worse every day; it was burning me so I couldn't sleep nights. I was almost crazy. The pimples were as big as beans and they looked horrid. They came to a head and festered. The boils caused me an awful pain. The itching and burning were so bad that I had to scratch them all the time, then they tried to scum."

"I began using — and — but they didn't help me any. One day I tried Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I washed my face in warm water with Cuticura Soap then I bathed my face about three or four times, then dried it and applied Cuticura Ointment. I did this every morning and evening for three weeks and I was cured." (Signed) John Maczykowski, July 3, 1913.

AS SHE WALKS ON STREET

Hair, 18 inches long snipped from head of Emma Metz; Tall Stranger Suspected.

When Emma Metz, 14 years old, of 1116 Graham street, returned home Tuesday night from a trip to a grocery and drug store in the neighborhood, on which she was accompanied by her sister, Bernadine, 13 years old, it was discovered that a braid of her hair, 18 inches long, had been clipped off. They directed suspicion to a tall young man who, they said, had followed them. They had stopped at a grocery store at Graham avenue and Clayton road and were on their way to a drug store at Tamm avenue and Clayton road when they passed the man and he followed them a short distance. On their way back they met him and he followed them again, they say. Bernadine says she had seen the man before and that she would recognize him.

The girls are daughters of Louis Metz. Emma works at an incandescent lamp factory on Clark avenue. During the day she had worn her hair on the top of her head. In the evening she had taken it down and braided it. When she went out she wore a coat and cap and scarf. The braid was cut off close to the scarf.

LEV RUSSELL, NAME
IN HISTORY, QUITS
BAR ASSOCIATION

Wants Lawyers Society to Bring About Constitutional Convention.

Lev Russell of 5170 Page boulevard, an attorney, has resigned from the St. Louis Bar Association because his resolution favoring a Missouri Constitutional Convention has not been acted upon, although he presented it a month ago.

Russell announced his resignation in what he terms "a scathing letter" to Thomas S. McPheeters, secretary of the association.

What He Says in Letter. "The State Bar Association already has acted favorably on the question of a Constitutional Convention," Russell says in his letter. "There are about 700 lawyers in St. Louis, who are great lawyers, that don't belong to your association. If your association think that you are the people, it is about time for you to get it out of your heads. I have no patience with a physical or moral coward, and I want to get out of their society."

Russell suspected Secretary McPheeters probably would "desire to know who is talking to him." So Russell tells him he can look to the record of the Missouri Supreme Court of Russell's admission without examination to the Supreme Court. "And there you will see, as a 20-year-old boy," he adds, "I practiced in person in the Supreme Court of my State." (Russell is from Kentucky.)

More on Who Russell Is. "You can look through the reports of the State of Kentucky for over 10 years and you will find something on the subject. You can look to the last history of Kentucky, written by Gen. E. Polk Johnson of Louisville, Ky., and you will find me mentioned, in a brief sketch of a page and a half, and there are several other places that I might suggest you look, if you are especially curious, but it is unnecessary."

Besides all this, Russell adds, he has "in his pocket at the moment" letters from the Lieutenant-Governor and Attorney-General of Missouri, endorsing this cause of a constitutional convention. And he says he has similar letters from other great men.

"And yet you practitioners who are feeding off of the interests of the people in this State deem it desirable not to espouse their public cause," Russell concludes.

"I like personally a great many members of this association and regret that I have to leave you."

Resolution Offered in December. Russell introduced his resolution at a Bar Association banquet at the University Club in December and resigns because it was not reported from the Judiciary Committee at a meeting Monday night. He blames Chairman Sturdevant of the Judiciary Committee and Secretary McPheeters for the delay.

"I was much gratified Monday evening with the courteous treatment I received from the great men of your association," Russell wrote to McPheeters. "They were altogether too polite, and I have been taught that when a man gets too polite it is about time to get your pistol ready. I saw why they were so polite when the committee failed to report. Under the circumstances I must admit that I did not feel myself especially honored by their civilities. I only consider those men big who do big things."

McPheeters told a Post-Dispatch reporter Wednesday it is not within the purposes of the Bar Association to recommend a new State Constitution. That, he said, is up to the people of the State.

"The Bar Association is concerned with the administration of law in St. Louis particularly, with the personnel and character of lawyers practicing at the bar, and with anything that will promote practice at the bar," McPheeters said. "I don't think much consideration should be given to Russell's complaint by the press, especially after one had read his resolution."

"I have no comment to make upon Mr. Russell's resignation," said W. L. Sturdevant, chairman of the Judiciary Committee.

CLERK ALLEGES ROBBERY

Harry Seavers, 21 years old, a clerk in the National Bank of Commerce, living at 323 North Taylor avenue, reported to the police Tuesday night that he was robbed of $25.00 by four negro highwaymen at Taylor and Greer avenues at 8:40 o'clock. He said the men slashed his coat and took the money from his pocket.

Seavers said $15.00 of the money was his, and that the $5.00 represented the proceeds of a check, which he had cashed at the bank for his father. The police found that his coat was torn or cut open, and that there was a scratch on his abdomen.

NEW PERMITS LET IN COMPETITION ON DOWNTOWN LIGHTS

Two Rivals of Union Electric Get Space Which Will Permit Service Extension.

General competition in the electric lighting business in the downtown district is the object of the Light and Development Co., whose subsidiary, the Cupples Station Light, Heat and Power Co., obtained a permit Tuesday from the Board of Public Improvements to lay a conduit in Washington avenue from Fourth to Eighth street. Similar permission was granted to the Phoenix Light and Power Co., which is owned by the Laclede Gas Light Co.

Hugo Wurdack, president of the Light and Development Co., said the company meant to extend its business
as fast as it could get permits to enter other downtown streets. It now lights the Cupples Station group and the Railway Exchange Building, including the Famous-Barr store.

The company first applied for permits to lay its wires in the existing conduits on Washington avenue, but the Board of Public Improvements, on the City Counselor's advice, ruled that under the Keyes conduit ordinance,
these conduits were closed to companies
which had not, within a certain time
after the passage of the ordinance, applied for the privilege of using them.

Space for a new conduit between Fourth and Eighth streets was found,
and application for this privilege was made. It was opposed by the Union Electric Co., which argued, through its counsel, Ben Schnurmacher, that the board had no right to grant such a permit. When reminded that this would mean that the Union Electric Co. had no right to the use of the Washington avenue conduit, between Broadway and Eighth street, Schnurmacher said
the company was ready to admit this.

The Light and Development Co. is an outgrowth of the old Laclede Power Co., and was organized by men who had been
with that company, after the Union
Electric Co. absorbed its franchise.

HELD FOR ABANDONMENT SAYS HE IS DIVORCED

Man Arrested on Newport Wife's Charge—St. Louis Wife Calls
at Police Station.

George Louis Chiquet, 42 years old, is held by the Central District Police on a charge of wife and child abandonment.
He was arrested Tuesday evening at 3235 Henrietta street, following the receipt of a telegram from the Sheriff of Newport, R. I., saying a warrant had been obtained and requesting that Chi-quet be held.

After Chiquet had spent the night in a cell, a woman called at Police Headquarters Wednesday morning, and asked to see Chiquet, who, she said, was her husband. She seemed surprised when told he was being held on the wife and child abandonment charge.

The woman told the police that she and Chiquet were schoolmates in Newport. Seventeen years ago, she said, Chiquet married her rival. The woman said she came to St. Louis and during the World's Fair met Chiquet, who was doing work on World's Fair buildings. He told her, she said, that he had divorced his wife in Newport. The woman said she and Chiquet were married in 1906, and have been living here ever since.

Chiquet admitted to the police that he had been married in Newport and that his wife had a child. He insisted,
however, that he obtained a divorce 10 years ago. The police will investigate the reported St. Louis marriage.

SAYS WIFE DECLARED LOVE FOR ANOTHER

Husband, Seeking Divorce, Alleges She Took Baby and Left His Home.

Leon P. Stone, an employee of a motor cycle company, in a divorce petition filed Wednesday against Beatrice D.
Stone of 1386 Temple place, alleges that in the presence of another man she told him she loved the "other man" and would marry him if Stone would consent to obtain a divorce. The petition does not name the man.

Stone is a son of Frank Stone, a retired lawyer, and lives with his father
at 3235 Washington avenue, in St. Louis County. He and his wife formerly lived at 4206 Delmar boulevard.

They were married at Hannibal, Mo.,
June 20, 1910, and separated Dec. 16 last.
When he went home from work on the evening of Dec. 14, Stone alleges,
he found that his wife had taken the baby and departed, leaving a letter in which she said she did not love him and would never return. In the letter, he says, she advised him to obtain a divorce.

A short time after this, Stone alleges,
he met his wife by appointment at the home of a mutual friend. When she came to the conference she was accompanied by a man. It was at this meeting, he told Stone she loved the
"other man" and wanted to marry him.
Stone's petition says. He asks for custody of their 3-year-old boy, George.

EAT LESS MEAT AND TAKE SALTS IF YOUR KIDNEYS ACHE OR BACK HURTS

Says Bladder Irritation or Rheumatism means your Kidneys aren't straining uric acid. Begin taking Salts.

Meat forms uric acid which excites and overworks the kidneys in their efforts to filter it from the system. Regular eaters of meat must flush the kidneys occasionally. You must relieve them like you relieve your bowels; removing all the acids, waste and poison, else you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sour, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges.

To neutralize these irritating acids

and flush off the body's waste get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine and bladder disorders disappear. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys and stop bladder irritation. Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then, thus avoiding serious kidney and bladder diseases.—ADV.

AMATEUR HOLDUP MAN THROWN OUT OF TWO SALOONS

Patrick Cavanaugh Arrested When Taking Nap Says He Was Only Joking.

Patrick Cavanaugh, a horsehoof of 2317 Hodiament avenue, started out as an amateur highwayman Tuesday night, but he didn't get far. Policemen who went on his trail found him at his home, asleep in a chair. Though he says he was only joking, he is held pending application for warrants charging attempted robbery.

Cavanaugh entered James Neer's saloon, 2901 Suburban tracks, at 11:30 p. m. and showed a revolver to Arthur Denny, the bartender. He told Denny he had bought the weapon for $1, but that he expected to make $200 with it before the night was over. When Denny asked how Cavanaugh leveled the revolver, he told him to hold up his hands.

Denny jumped over the counter, caught Cavanaugh by the collar and the seat of the trousers and rushed him out of the saloon. In the excitement Cavanaugh fired a bullet into the floor.

A few minutes later Cavanaugh entered Sam Silvey's saloon and ordered the bartender, Edward Crockett, to throw up his hands. Jerry Hayes of 6312 Audrey avenue took the revolver from Cavanaugh and threw him out. Hayes took the revolver to Cavanaugh's home after unloading it and gave it to Mrs. Cavanaugh, advising her to make her husband behave himself.

When Cavanaugh was awakened from his arm chair nap by his own firebrand an hour later he said he couldn't remember trying to be an amateur highwayman. After a night's rest in a police station cell he said he was joking when he displayed the revolver.

DELEGATE HALL'S RECORD ON THE MCKINLEY BILL

McCarthy Moved Appointment of Committee That Investigated Road's Violations.

The Post-Dispatch, Tuesday, in a report of the Municipal Assembly harmony dinner at the Elks' Club Monday night, told of remarks which passed between Delegate Nathan Hall of the Twenty-first Ward and other members of the House as to Hall's attitude on the McKinley switch bill in 1912.

Hall, in his talk at the dinner, defended his advocacy of the McKinley bill. The Post-Dispatch, in telling of this, said that "members joked Hall about his lax memory, as he was the member of the House who moved to file the McKinley switch bill in 1912."

UGH! NOT CALOMEL, OIL OR SALTS, DELICIOUS "SYRUP OF FIGS" IS BEST.

A harmless cure for sick headache, biliousness, sour stomach, constipation, indigestion, coated tongue, salivary-glands, "California Syrup of Figs." For the cause of all such misery comes from a torpid liver and sluggish bowels.

A tablespoonful tonight means all constipation, poison, waste matter, fermenting food and sour bile gently moved out of your system by morning without griping. Please don't think of "California Syrup of Figs" as a physic. Don't think you are drugging yourself or your children.

because this delicious fruit laxative cannot cause injury. Even the most delicate child can take it as safely as a robust man. It is the most harmless, effective stomach, liver and bowel cleanser, regulator and tonic ever devised.

Your only difficulty may be in getting the genuine, so ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," then see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." This city has many counterfeit "fig syrups," so watch out.—ADV.

PAYLOWA TRIUMPH DARINGLY SHARED BY LESSER STARS

Miles. Plaskowiczka, Butsova
and Crombova Momentarily Divide Honors With Leader.

By RIPLEY D. SAUNDERS.

THE most poetic instant of the Pavlova performance at the Odeon on Tuesday evening was that when Miles. Plaskowiczka, Butsova and Crombova interpreted Schubert's "Moment Musical" in a woodland dance of exquisite kinship to the spirit of the composition itself.

Whatever of the Pagan love of sheer beauty for beauty's sake is left in one's soul nowadays responded to the appeal of this exquisite number with a keenness of appreciation almost poignant in its grip upon the primal imagination. The big and brilliant audience surrendered itself without reserve to the charm of youthful grace and joyousness which was the dominant note of the measure. It made the Odeon ring and ring again with applause. The three young dancers were fairly compelled to repeat their achievement. And again the house echoed and re-echoed with acclaim.

Until that instant nothing so perfect in artistry had been revealed by the program's development. It seemed to me that Pavlova herself was fated to be eclipsed by this triumph of three young girls in her great retinue. One could not deny the validity of their claim to the highest honors of the night thus far.

But barely had Miles. Plaskowiczka, Butsova and Crombova vanished from the Odeon stage, when Anna Pavlova, accompanied by M. Berge, appeared, and the "Gavotte Pavlova," arranged by Ballet Master Clustine of the Paris Grand Opera, received its memorable presentation.

Immediately, and with all the authority of well-deserved pre-eminence, Pavlova here regained the laurels momentarily wrested from her. The essential poise of the Schubert dance was lacking, but an unrivaled gracefulness and perfection in technique took its place and commanded at least the equal favor of the house. Pavlova had never been seen to better advantage than in her dancing of this Linke score, not even when Saint-Saens' "The Swan" inspired her supremest endeavor in past seasons.

And she was ably seconded by M. Berge, far and away the most finished and pleasing male dancer in her train. An especial interest was added to this number because of the fact that ever and anon it contained a suggestion of the latest society dances in its ravishing movement—a hint, perhaps, of the tango, spiritualized into a sort of glorified dignity by Pavlova's modest exposition.

I have rarely heard a more overwhelming volume of applause than that which followed this number. It replaced Pavlova in her proper station of unchallenged supremacy.

Those two dances marked the high tide of the evening's achievement. There were many other delightful numbers.

In the program's first offering, "Une Soire de Danse," to a Chopin musical setting, Pavlova and M. Novikoff, who replaced Mordkin as second in importance only to "the incomparable" herself, were seen in a nocturne and in two preludes with members of the ballet, and Novikoff then appeared in a solo variation and Pavlova in a valse, the latter of especial ballet beauty.

In the program's second part, the "Oriental Fantasy," Pavlova was seen as an enchantress and Novikoff as a young knight, their final dance in this offering being particularly memorable for Pavlova's movingly dramatic pantomime emphasizing the closing phases of the number.

Then, in addition to the gavotte in the program's third part, Pavlova appeared in a delightfully arch and humorous "Pas de Trois" with MM. Novikoff and Berge, and the evening reached its termination with the passionate "L'Automne Bacchanale" by Pavlova and Novikoff, this again moving the audience to the most fervent applause.

Neither so graceful nor so dramatic as his predecessor, Mordkin, Novikoff therefore is something of a disappointment by comparison, nevertheless he acquits himself with considerable credit.

In the ensemble numbers, notably the Religious Dance of the "Oriental Fantasy," splendidly led by M. Oukhrinsky, in the Dance of the Warriors and in a memorable interpretation of Liszt's "Hungarian Rhapsodie," the ballet distinguished itself by work of the highest quality. The orchestra under Theodore Stier's leadership is admirably competent.

An entirely different program, save for a repetition of the "Gavotte Pavlova" and "L'Automne Bacchanale," will be presented this evening.

WOMAN BEATEN BY NEGRO, SCREAMS AND IS CHOKED

Miss Ethel Barr, 19 years old, saleswoman for the Famous-Barr Co., who lives with her parents at 694 St. Louis avenue, was attacked, beaten and choked by a negro Tuesday night at 10:15 o'clock as she was going home from a moving picture show at Taylor and St. Louis avenues.

Miss Barr said she threw her purse on the ground, hoping the negro would take it and run, but he continued to beat and choke her, until William Mueller, 488 St. Louis avenue, heard her screams and went to the rescue. The negro ran south on Euclid avenue and escaped. Wednesday morning the young woman's face and throat were bruised and swollen.

PLAYGOERS' GUIDE

"Poor Little Rich Girl." Olympic Allegorical comedy, its central figure a child neglected by a business-enslaved father and a society-absorbed mother. Interesting at most moments, but occasionally overstrained. Viola Dana in title role does sincerely clever work.

"Stop Thief." Shubert. Comedy-drama "crook play" of laughable situations and swift surprises, with heart-interest romance interwoven. Its fun is clean and bright. Competently played.

"The Escape." American. A "vice play" of repulsive character, offensive in its frankness, indifferently played.

"Uncle Tom's Cabin." La Salle. Familiar melodrama of slavery days in the Southern states.

Vaudiville. Columbia. Bill headed by "The Little Parisienne," miniature musical comedy.

Vaudiville. Hippodrome. Bill headed by Dollar Troupe of European gymnasts.

Vaudiville. Grand Opera House. Bill headed by Herzog's eight trained horses.

NEW BILLBOARD MEASURE SIMILAR TO 1905 ORDINANCE

Although neither the billboard companies nor the Council has agreed to accept a compromise bill introduced by Chairman William Protzmann of the Public Improvements Committee, it is predicted that Protzmann's bill will not be opposed vigorously by either side, because it is in substantial accord with the demands of the Civic League in the 1905 ordinance, and is the best the billboard companies seem able to hope for. Protzmann's bill provides that boards shall not be higher than 14 feet or longer than 36 feet, the same as the 1905 ordinance, and provides that in no case shall they be erected in front of the existing building line, which is conceded to be an improvement on the 1905 ordinance.

The space at the bottom of the boards is cut from four to two feet by Protzmann's measure, which allows the companies 12, instead of 10, feet of board, and obviates the necessity of raising hundreds of boards that can comply with the two-foot requirement. The space between boards and next to buildings is to be two feet, whereas the 1905 ordinance provided for six feet next to buildings, and thus reduced the available space on a 25-foot lot between buildings to 13 feet.

Building Commissioner McKelvey has stated that he will proceed with the enforcement of the 1905 ordinance as soon as he can gather data, and says he will have the data complete in "a short time." Before the Council and House can enact amendments to the 1905 act, the Building Department will be in a position to carry out the existing law.

SAGE TEA BEAUTIFULLY DARKENS THE HAIR WHEN IT IS FADED OR GRAY

Sage Tea when Mixed with Sulphur Makes Your Hair Soft, Lustrous and Removes Every Bit of Dandruff.

The use of Sage and Sulphur for restoring faded, gray hair to its natural color dates back to grandmother's time. She kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and abundant with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair fell out or took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect.

But brewing at home is messy and out-of-date. Nowadays skilled chemists do this better than ourselves. By asking at any drug store for the ready-to-use product—called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy"—you will get a large bottle for about 50 cents. Some druggists make their own, which is usually too sticky, so insist upon getting "Wyeth's," which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair and is splendid for dandruff, dry, feverish, itchy scalp and falling hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says his customers insist on Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, because, they say, it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. Do this at night and by morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and abundant.—ADV.

EXPERT PREDICTS RADIUM WILL NOT ERADICATE CANCER

Dr. Kelly, Using $100,000 Worth on Congressman's Shoulder Tells of Its Limitations.

By Wire From the Washington Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—Dr. Howard A. Kelly, the Baltimore physician, last night described to a group of women physicians the progress of the experiments he has been making with radium as a potential cure for cancer.

Dr. Kelly refused to discuss in a personal manner the results that he has accomplished in his attempts to cure Representative Bremer of New Jersey, but he showed a number of slides indicating the manner in which he had applied the shoulder of the affected Congressman and just how the $100,000 worth of radium was placed on the growth.

"I desire to state most emphatically that I do not believe that radium will eradicate this human scourge," he said. "It should be understood that no one who is familiar with this most wonderful chemical force believes that it will accomplish such a result; at least in the near future."

"I feel satisfied, however, that while it will not displace surgery in the treatment of cancer, it will be an excellent helpmate for surgery. In some cases, I believe that radium may suffice to bring about cures. In other cases I believe that surgery may be found the best method and in some other cases I believe that the two may be worked together."

Dr. Kelly said he was satisfied that cancer would never be eradicated until the causes that were responsible for its existence are removed. He says that the disease is carried by at least 75,000 persons in this country, and that it is rapidly gaining ground.

"The disease is not found in any particular class," he said. "It will be found among the poor and the rich, the good and the bad. It may be traced to fifth in many cases. Cancer of the tongue is caused frequently by pipes. In other cases it is the result of one of the most dreadful of the social diseases."

ED. The game of "hearts" is played with diamonds. Let's Bros. & Co., 25 floor, N. B. B. will trust you for the diamond ring.

Dr. Mitchell's Funeral Simple. PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 7.—Simplicity marked the funeral yesterday of Dr. S. Weir Mitchell, the noted physician and author. There were no honorary pallbearers, but St. Stephens Protestant Episcopal Church, where the public services were held, was crowded, many distinguished men in different professions attending.

Tradition Is That Bush Originally Came From the Staff of St. Joseph of Arimathea.

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—The Glastonbury thorn in Old Trinity Churchyard is due to bloom today, according to tradition, but its appearance this morning indicated that there wasn't a chance of the bloom showing.

The bush came from the ancient Benedictine Abbey in Somersetshire, England. The Glastonbury thorn, wherever planted, is supposed to bloom Jan. 7, Christmas day according to the old calendar.

Tradition is that the Glastonbury thorn has grown from the cutting of the original thorn, grown from the staff of St. Joseph of Arimathea, who gave his tomb as a temporary resting place for the body of Christ.

Fall River Eleven Is First Team Ever Penalized by American Football Association.

Word has been received by local sports men that the Fall River (Mass.) Rovers, who played three games here during the holidays, have been suspended by the A. F. A. for refusing to meet for meeting local outlaws. The Rovers were cautioned before coming West, but paid no heed to the warning of the A. F. A. The duration of their suspension has not been stated.

The Rovers, while not members of any of the outlawed players are affiliated with teams holding membership in the A. F. A., sort of an all-star aggregation. Shortly before they came West the Rovers defeated the Tru Blues, 3-0, in the American Cup series.

This game was disallowed and ordered a new one. The new game was ordered and was declared ineligible. Manager Howarth refused to abide by this decision and decided to make the West-end trip in defiance to the wishes of

And in this the players show they are well advised by Dave Fulton, who used to be one of them, before he tackled Blackstone's. A realistic attack on baseball conditions of present day would only result in breaking down a system that has steadily built up individual baseball values.

The preservation of the reserve clause and the adherence to it by baseball players is truly necessary. The players are the backbone of the players' well-being financially at least.

FIRST GRAFT TRIAL IN EAST ST. LOUIS SET FOR JAN. 26

Judge Pope of Du Quoin Called in by Judge Vandeventer to Hear Cases.

CITY JOINS PROSECUTION

Corporation Counsel Baxter Assigned to Aid State's Attorney Webb.

The Chamberlain administration in East St. Louis, Wednesday, joined with State's Attorney Charles Webb in the prosecution of all indictments charging municipal graft found by the East St. Louis City Court grand jury at its last session. In the prosecution of the cases the city administration will be represented by Samuel Baxter, Corporation Counsel, and formerly an Assistant State's Attorney.

In addition to Baxter, other attorneys outside the State's Attorney's office who will assist in the prosecution are Thomas Webb, for many years attorney for E. Fred Gerold, under indictment more than 50 times, and Judge R. D. W. Holder of Belleville, former Circuit Judge of St. Clair County. Thomas Webb, who is a brother of the State's Attorney, has withdrawn as Gerold's attorney in all matters.

First Cases Set for Jan. 26. State's Attorney Charles Webb, who will have direct personal charge of the prosecutions, has assigned two of his assistants, R. V. Gustin of the East St. Louis office and A. B. Davis of the Belleville office, to devote their entire time to the cases until they are disposed of.

The first cases to be tried are set for the week beginning Jan. 26, when Judge Pope of the City Court of Du Quoin, Ill., will be in East St. Louis. He was chosen by Judge Vandeventer when defendants in the cases demanded a change of venue.

State's Attorney Webb told a Post-Dispatch reporter Wednesday that the State would be ready for trial in all the cases on the days they were set, and that he was in hopes the defendants would be ready, as he desired to dispose of the charges as rapidly as possible.

The first cases on the docket are six charges of embezzlement against John D. Young, former Deputy Building Commissioner. The State charges that Young embezzled more than $300 in small amounts.

Other cases set for the first week are against Chief of Detectives Lester J. Grigory, charged jointly with Fred Moore, secretary to Chief of Police Payne, with robbery and conspiracy and embezzlement cases against former Mayor Charles A. Lambert, former Treasurer Gerold, former Comptroller John J. Faulkner and former Comptroller William D. Rodenberger.

The action of the Chamberlain administration in joining in the prosecutions is expected by the State's Attorney to be of great assistance, as it will give him the benefit of the expert accounting work of Westernman, Tracer & Co., which conducted an audit of the East St. Louis bond and coupon records.

Mayor Chamberlain has not made objection to conferences and representatives of the accounting firm, but the assistance derived from the work of the accountants is expected to be much greater with the city's principal legal representative actively joining in the prosecution.

Baxter has informed the State's Attorney that he will devote as much time and do as much work in connection with the prosecution as the State's Attorney may desire.

GARDENER BADLY HURT WHEN CAR HITS WAGON

Buried Under Sweet Potatoes and Caught Between Vehicle and Pole; Left Hip Broken. Otto Schied, 80 years old, a truck gardener of Affton, St. Louis County, was seriously injured at Kansas and Gravelle avenues at 10th & M. Wednesday, when a Cherokee car struck his wagon. Schied was pinned between the body of the wagon and a telegraph pole and buried under his load of sweet potatoes. He was taken to St. Anthony's Hospital, where it was found his left hip was fractured and he was internally hurt. Philip Bayard, the motorman told the police Schied was driving in the car track and failed to heed the gong. Slippery rails, Bayard said, prevented him from stopping the car in time to avoid a collision.

MRS. J. W. JOHNSTON DIES IN CALIFORNIA AT WINTER HOME

Daughter-in-law of Vice-President of Scruggs-Vandervoort Succumbs to Long Illness.

Mrs. Jessie Henschen Johnston, 21 years old, wife of J. Wyndham Johnston, of 3030 Waterman avenue and daughter-in-law of Robert Johnston, vice-president of the Scruggs-Vandervoort & Barney Dry Goods Co., is dead at her winter home in Monrovia, Cal. At the time of her death about two years ago Mrs. Johnston, then Miss Henschen, was considered one of the most beautiful young women in her social set. She was a member of a wealthy family and had inherited a $30,000 share in her father's estate. Miss Henschen in August, 1912, became the bride of J. Wyndham Johnston, owner of a large interest in the General Paper Stock Co. More than a year ago the young bride began to show signs of failing health.

ST. LOUIS WOMAN WHO IS DEAD IN CALIFORNIA

MRS. J. WYNDHAM JOHNSTON.

To close friends of her girlhood days she said she had been told that she had tuberculosis and could never recover. When she and her husband departed for California several months ago Mrs. Johnston bade her friends a sad farewell and told them they probably never would see her again as she felt that she was going away to die. Mrs. Johnston's malady first showed itself in an attack of laryngitis which for a time deprived her of the power of speech. When she consulted physicians she learned the deep-seated nature of her illness. Johnston was with his wife when she died Monday. He will bring the body to St. Louis for burial.

AUCTIONEER GETS $1500 FOR STREET CAR INJURY

Story James D. Burton Printed About His Life Figured in Personal Injury Trial.

A jury in Judge Withrow's court returned a verdict for $1500 Tuesday in favor of James D. Burton, an auctioneer of 2213 Cass avenue, against the United Railways for injuries in a street car accident at Fourteenth and Chestnut streets, April 29, 1912. At the trial Burton was questioned concerning a pamphlet he issued detailing the story of his life. It includes an interview with Burton in the Post-Dispatch, and he tells about two men he killed in self-defense 50 years ago in Tennessee and of his being a fugitive. He testified the statements contained in the pamphlet and newspaper article were true. After being out two hours the jury returned and handed in both forms of verdict to the Court. Judge Withrow ascertained that the jurors had intended to return a verdict for the plaintiff and he sent them back to reconsider the case, telling them two verdicts was inconsistent and to fill out the plaintiff's form of verdict only.

DR. ELIOT ASSERTS BIBLE'S MIRACLES ARE FADING MYTHS

Harvard's President Emeritus Says Creator Is Sleepless Energy and Will.

MAN NOT MADE OF DUST

Professor Casts Serpent Upon Rubbish Heap; Calls Book or Moses' 'Pleasant Reading.'

BOSTON, Jan. 7.—Nothing so radical from a high source has appeared in years as the supplementary article on "The Future of Religion," which Dr. Charles W. Eliot, president emeritus of Harvard, has prepared, and which has just been published by the American Unitarian Association. Brief extracts from this article were published in the Post-Dispatch of last Sunday. Dr. Eliot would take away the terror of a good deal about it, but never put it into effective practice until democracy began to come into its own. The last 50 years, however, have witnessed more progress toward the realization of the brotherhood of man than all the preceding centuries of the Christian era. This progress is seen in the widespread interest in all the means of improving the moral and physical health of all classes of the community. In the better distribution of the products of faithful industry, in the ethics of commerce and feeling, in the evolution of possibilities in individuals or groups, and in the defense of man against adverse nature, and his own injurious impulses. Those who delight in force and in the many virtues which are often developed in using force, need not fear that the civilization of the future will dispense with force and its hardy virtues. Man's conflict with nature and with his own defects and vices will forever give ample employment for many kinds of protective force, and for human daring, endurance and self-sacrificing comradeship.

Speaks of Human Brotherhood.

Of human brotherhood, Dr. Eliot goes on to say: A doctrine which is fast modifying the religious conceptions of mankind is not new, but newly applied—the doctrine of human brotherhood. Jesus taught it explicitly and implicitly, and a good deal about it, but never put it into effective practice until democracy began to come into its own.

The last 50 years, however, have witnessed more progress toward the realization of the brotherhood of man than all the preceding centuries of the Christian era. This progress is seen in the widespread interest in all the means of improving the moral and physical health of all classes of the community. In the better distribution of the products of faithful industry, in the ethics of all business, large and small, productive and distributive, and in the purpose to give the entire people a sound and effective education.

A sympathetic, merciful and disinterested regard for the less fortunate members of the race, carried into action and affecting politics, government and industries, has characterized all the progressive peoples in Europe and America during the last 50 years, whatever their form of government, and promises to bring in a new era of peace and good will. As yet, the Orient has scarcely felt this new impulse toward carrying into practice this sentiment of brotherhood.

The many social forces which are working to give effect to this prevailing sentiment, are scattered and often not well organized, but they are all benevolent, and they work to one end. The organizations which foster the sentiment of brotherhood have leaders, seers and prophets, but not rulers. They proceed from the loving emotions of multitudes, and these emotions will tell more and more on the social organization of mankind as time goes on.

BLIND VETERAN, 76, IS ADMITTED TO HOME

Frank Walter, for Whom Lawyer Davies Has Provided, Will Go to New York.

Frank Walter, 76 years old, a blind and lame Civil War veteran, will spend the rest of his days in the National Soldiers' Home at Bath, N. Y., as a result of prolonged effort on the part of his benefactors. George A. Davies, a lawyer, who for several years has provided for Walter, Tuesday received a letter from Chapin Post, G. A. R., of Buffalo, N. Y., forwarding credentials permitting Walter to enter the home. Davies has asked Mayor Kiel, through Secretary Rogers, to furnish transportation for Walter. A charge of desertion was placed against Walter in the War. A court-martial would have cleared him, but Walter wandered away after suffering a blow on the head, delivered in a fight, by Lieut. Cole of the same regiment. Walter was dazed for a long time and physicians attribute to this injury the paralysis and blindness which seized him two years ago. Walter has spent the last two years in a second floor room at 121 Hickory street. Davies and others have contributed to his support.

A Sale by Lammert's Of Furniture Manufacturer's Overstocks

We inaugurate tomorrow morning a furniture sale extraordinary — a sale involving the pride-pieces of America's proudest makers at prices usually asked for the most ordinary furniture.

This sale is the result of our fortunate purchase of the entire overstocks of several makers of fine furniture who overestimated the Fall demand. They sacrificed at below cost rather than carry these articles over to another season.

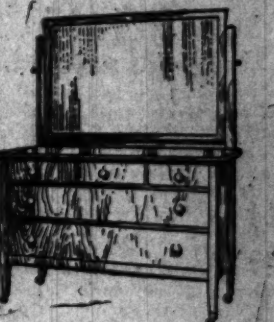

Every piece is Lammert quality, through and through. That the full importance of these reductions may be apparent, we mention our regular prices on the same identical pieces. This is our first general sale in 52 years of business. The unusual conditions make this possible.

Included in this sale are a limited number of these fashionable and convenient Tea Wagons — all mahogany, including wheels. Exactly the style we sell regularly for $18. While they last, $14.75

HUDSON Six-54, $2285

(Wire Wheels, $50 extra)
(f. o. b. St. Louis)

Costs Less to Run Than a Four

The properly-designed, modern six-cylinder car uses less gasoline and is easier on tires than a four-cylinder car of the same size and power. Some people don't realize this. But when they do, they buy six-cylinder cars.

Dealers in four-cylinder cars try to keep alive the old idea that because Six is a larger number than Four, therefore a Six must cost more to run than a Four. It's the same kind of argument that used to be made by makers of one-cylinder cars against cars of two cylinders. It was thought that since one cylinder gave so much trouble, why double it by having two cylinders? When a 60 H. P. Six was made by adding two cylinders to a 40 H. P. Four, the advantage was not as great as was anticipated. The motor power of such a Six was 50% greater than the Four, and of course it cost more to run and did not develop 50% more power. But a 60 H. P. Four cost just as much as did a 60 H. P. Six. The extra cost was because of greater power, not because of more cylinders. Four-cylinder folks neglect to tell you that.

Six times four is exactly the same as four times six. Six times 50 inches cylinder space is exactly the same as four times 75 inches cylinder space. And 30 cubic inches cylinder space in a Six cannot possibly burn more gasoline than 300 cubic inches in a Four.

The Six a Better Power Producer

A six-cylinder motor, with overlapping power impulses, and no gaps or dead centers, produces more power from a gallon of gasoline than does a Four.

The Four works in jerks, the Six by a steady pull. The Four has gaps and dead centers where a heavy fly-wheel must carry the moving parts by its momentum. The Hudson Six has a light fly-wheel and the engine pull never stops.

Thus the Hudson Six produces more power per gallon of gasoline than a Four. The steady application of the power carries the car proportionately further. So the mileage from the Hudson Six per gallon is greater than the mileage from a Four. In an economy race at Harrisburg, Pa., a Hudson Six won against the best fours made. Its record was 15 miles to the gallon. This in a car with a heavier load of passengers and baggage than was carried by any one of its competitors.

Hudson Six is Easy on Tires

Your tire cost comes down when you drive a Hudson Six.

Come and see us and we will prove every point. And in addition will show you the Hudson Six-54, the equal of any motor car made, at the remarkably low price of $2285 in the phaeton model, and $3135 in the Sedan style.

The Hudson Six-40, 123-inch wheel base, 47 H. P., in phaeton and roadster models at $1775 and in the new cabriolet model at $1975, ready for delivery in a few weeks. All these prices f. o. b. St. Louis.

We are especially anxious to meet the man who is considering a car costing $2000 to $6000. We have an interesting message for him.

It isn't mileage alone that wears out tires. It's jerks and jolts and vibration.

These are abolished in the Hudson Six. It glides smoothly over the road. The tires don't slip and slide and scrape.

In Pennsylvania, over the same roads, making each a distance of 5000 miles, the first set of tires on a Hudson Six-54 were still in fair condition, while a prominent four-cylinder car wore out ten casings.

Both used standard tires. Conditions were similar. The only difference was in the motor. The six-cylinder proved its tire economy.

You can repeat this in your locality. If You Drive a $1500 Car You Can Afford a Hudson Six

Anyone who can afford a car costing $1500 and upward can afford to drive Hudson Six.

There are small Fours that have their place. But in a car of some size and capacity only the Six should be considered.

First the cost is approximately the same with the advantage in favor of the Hudson Six. Running expense, gasoline, tires and repair cost—all are reduced when you own a good Six.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

An Earned Compliment.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
In answer to a parcel post advertiser in your paper, I sent to R. O. Robertson of Mayfield, Ky., a money order for 90 cents in lieu of 75 as requested, in payment for 10 pounds of genuine sorghum, which I have been unable to obtain in this vicinity for some time. I surmised that the additional 15 cents would be required for postage. Being only a week before Christmas, when I sent the order, I was surprised at receiving it three days preceding that day, packed securely, and was entirely satisfied with the contents, having that rich, old-time flavor of the real article. But what prompted me to make public these words of commendation, is the remittance of 75 cents a few days ago by Mr. Robertson, though the postage on the parcel was 22 cents, a reasonable rate, considering distance.

I have not the slightest acquaintance with the gentleman referred to, but fully appreciate honest advertising and business dealing, and believe in recommending such men to patronage by the public.

St. Louis Smoke and Dirt.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
I have just returned from a pleasure jaunt to Washington, New York and Boston, and to sit amid the smoke-laden air of this town, reflecting upon the clear atmosphere of the cities named, is enough to give old Optimism himself a grouch. If one so desired, he could wear a shirt and collar a week in New York and find them cleaner at the end of this time than at the end of one day here. The question of smoke, grime and dirt is not one simply to "fuss" over, but is one of health, happiness and economy.
FOR ST. LOUIS.

Comptroller Player Explains.
To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
It was due largely to the efforts of the Real Estate Exchange that the increase in the rate was defeated. As will be remembered, the Comptroller of the City of St. Louis desired to increase the taxes from its present rate of 12.32 per cent to 12.85. Ten cents of this increase was to be used for the completion of the highway or street car approach to the Municipal (Free) Bridge, and the 3 cents was to be used to pay the increased salaries, voted by the last Municipal Assembly. (John J. Dowling, Secretary of St. Louis Real Estate Exchange in Sunday's Post-Dispatch.)

The above is clipped from page 12B of your yesterday's issue and misrepresents my attitude toward the tax rate.

As a matter of fact I drew up the rate bill, and, as you know, strenuously opposed the amendment made by the Municipal Assembly providing for an increase of 10 cents. As far as I know the Real Estate Exchange had nothing whatever to do with the defeat of the amendment increasing the rate. The Mayor vetoed the bill. I may very properly add that if it had not been for the action of the Real Estate Exchange, we probably never would have experienced the present difficulty in connecting with the Free Bridge. When I stated publicly some years ago that the bridge was to cost nearer $7,000,000 or $10,000,000 than $2,000,000, the Real Estate Exchange took occasion to pass a resolution condemning me for giving utterances to such sentiments, alleging that there was no question but what the bridge could be built for $2,500,000.

As individuals the members of the Real Estate Exchange are highly useful citizens, but when they act collectively they seem to be fated to get us into a peck of trouble, from time to time. Very respectfully,
JAMES FLAYLER, Comptroller.

Gompers on Sherman Anti-Trust Law.
To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
Your editorial of Jan. 3, criticizing Samuel Gompers, attempts to evade the question raised by Mr. Gompers.

Mr. Gompers asserts that the Sherman anti-trust law was passed for the purpose of protecting the people against combinations of capital, to prevent or check monopoly and absolute control over the products of labor and the soil, to assure to the people the necessities of life at reasonable prices, and further, it "has proved useless in establishing control or regulation over trusts and monopolies." These assertions have been made before and never successfully refuted. Now, if this law was passed was intended to secure to the people the necessities of life at reasonable prices, why, then, why isn't it applied? It is simply a case of where a law intended to apply to dollars and cents, instead has been applied to flesh and blood, ragged children and weeping mothers, and to men that are overworked and underpaid and to men that are jobless.

D. L. THOMAS, Editor, Ill.

THEORY VS. FACT IN GOVERNMENT.

Delegate Schwartz complains that seven committee chairmen exercise all legislative authority in the St. Louis House of Delegates. New members of Congress complain that all authority there is lodged in a dozen or more chairmen of important committees.

Under Democratic as under Republican rule, chairmen of important committees determine the course of legislation in the United States Senate. In State Legislatures everywhere actual control is held by a small group of leaders expert in such affairs.

In Glasgow's City Council of 120 members, eight or nine control; in council committees of 16 to 20 members, three is a quorum.

Why? Is there a worldwide, wicked conspiracy to suppress the helpless majority? Or is the situation which thus works out everywhere an exhibition of natural law nullifying a political theory—the theory that wisdom dwells in "a multitude of councillors?"

The fact seems to be that a small group of competent men can get business done faster and better than a large group of incompetent men; that here as elsewhere in life "the foremen appoint themselves," assume authority and use it.

The short ballot, single chamber form of city government recognizes this fact, gets rid of the helpless majority, and says to the small group of competent men: "You have been running things, mostly under cover, and very often you have dodged responsibility for unpleasant results by saying you only cast five or six votes out of 20 or 30. Hereafter we want you to run the business, but you'll have to run it out in the open, and you'll have to take entire responsibility for results."

New York City a little while ago had to recognize this fact, and did so when it stripped its big Board of Aldermen of all real power, concentrating authority in the small Board of Estimate and Apportionment. This little board of big men is in fact, if not in title, a genuine short ballot City Council, or city commission as the "new rule" cities call their councils. Boston adopted the new rule in form as well as in fact. Denver and a host of other cities have fallen in line, and Kansas City will vote on it next spring.

St. Louis' new charter should abandon the ancient theory and incorporate the essential fact.

THE STANDARDIZED HORSE.

Coal Omit! Wanted—One horse, together or separate—From a Want Advertisement.
Has the standardized horse of interchangeable parts at last made his appearance in this motor car age?

THE CENTRAL BANK OBSESSION.

The idea that there should be one great central bank and that it should be located in New York dies hard in New York. The Organization Committee on Federal reserve banks is being urged to make the district attached to that city so large that its regional bank, whose capital will be made up of 6 per cent of the entire national bank capital in the district, can overshadow all other regional banks in the country. "Better one regional bank and seven puny regional banks than eight regional banks, all of which will be puny," New York bankers say.

But they wouldn't insist on this if the one "towering bank" should be located in some city other than New York. With an equitable apportionment of national banking capital to each district and the co-operation on the part of state banks, no bank will be "puny."

Each regional bank must of necessity largely exceed any single bank in the district. The committee will not in this apportionment do by indirect action what Congress and the people have refused to do directly.

Ralph Lopez, Mexican bandit, writes the Post-Dispatch that he escaped from the Utah mine and is now in St. Louis. Extra vigilance is needed on the part of the three faithful patrolmen who guard two square miles of territory in the West End.

SOMETHING NEW UNDER THE SUN.

Henry Ford's announcement for 1914 is something new under the sun. The head of the Ford Motor Co. orders that the Ford works hereafter shall run three shifts of eight hours each, instead of two shifts of nine hours; that the minimum wage for all men over 22 years of age (all but 10 per cent of the men), shall be $5 a day instead of $2.34. The youngsters can get the higher wage by proving they won't waste it. The change is expected to absorb one-half of the company's $20,000,000 a year profits.

Profit sharing is not new. Recognition of the minimum wage standard is not new. The new factor in the Ford plan is the deliberate purpose to shorten the day to provide work for more men, while at the same time raising wages all around. Henry Ford has given one more proof that his extraordinary business success was not a fluke but the due reward of intelligence, initiative, courage and a broad vision of human needs.

When the churchmen have fought each other to a standstill over the tango the ladies, we suspect, will be found still dancing it.

MARTHA WASHINGTON'S WILL.

Litigation against J. P. Morgan will be begun in the Supreme Court of the United States by the State of Virginia under the following clause of the Constitution:

In all cases affecting Ambassadors, other public ministers and Consuls, and those in which a state shall be a party, the Supreme Court shall have original jurisdiction.

Interesting as will be the novelty of the Supreme Justices sitting as a trial court, it will not be as interesting as the cause of the suit. During the Civil War, the will of Martha Washington was out from the book of records of Fairfax County, Va., and carried away with other historical papers. Virginians discovered after nearly half a century that it had passed into the possession of the father of Mr. Morgan and asked its return. The elder Morgan refused to surrender it, declaring that his title to it was valid, running back to the one who had acquired it as contraband of war.

The passion of the collector, which no one describes as finely as Balzac, may excuse the original acquisition of this treasure by Mr. Morgan, but does not excuse its retention. Its place is among the other priceless documents that record the history of the country in which it was filed, not among the curiosities in glass cases a millionaire displays to favored friends. Contraband of war is closely defined under civilized usage. It does not include public records. The seizure of the will was not an act of war, but the theft of private pilferage. Fairfax County held it in trusteeship for all the people. To assert a claim to private property in it is presumption.

The younger Morgan should not wait for a Supreme Court mandate to restore the document to its rightful custodian.

"COMING BACK"

Arthur Hunnewell Shaw, fighting to conquer drink and drug habits, has taken the right road, of daily hard manual labor, plain food and the nightly sound sleep of earned bodily fatigue. He is building up a sound body as the only fit habitation for a strong, clean, fighting spirit.

NO RAILROAD PIRACY.

Following the Post-Dispatch's criticism of the reported plan to jerk the Frisco out of the hands of receivers by the men who put it there, a marked change apparently has taken place in the attitude of those on the inside of Frisco management. We are told now that there is no plan and no idea, as yet, of closing the receivership.

Certainly the rehabilitation and reorganization of the road on a sound basis is most desirable. But the work should be accomplished right, with the conservation of all interests and the special view of restoring and enhancing its value as a public service corporation. It should be thoroughly cleaned up for these ends.

The Post-Dispatch's protest was directed against any concession to or consideration of the selfish schemes of the plunderbund which has looted the system and brought it to the verge of bankruptcy. The divorce between receiverships and conspiracies of loot in the handling of railroad properties must be complete. It is the duty of courts and receivers to protect railroad properties and all the proper interests concerned therein against every form of railroad piracy.

"FORGOTTEN PRISONER" ACQUITTED.

Joseph Ellis, who was "forgotten" in Clayton jail for seven months because the examining magistrate forgot to send the papers in his case, was brought to trial and acquitted almost exactly nine months after his original arrest. Would it have been as difficult to establish his guilt, if he had been brought to trial nearer the date of the crime of which he was accused? If so we have a case in which nine months had been taken out of the life of a man whose legal presumption of innocence was never in serious doubt.

Mr. Ellis is not the only prisoner who has been "forgotten." The magistrates and others whose negligence is responsible for illegal detention in such cases should be forced to make substantial reparation in some form. Reparation in a good, round sum of money would discourage this serious kind of official misfeasance.

The tank steamer Oklahoma did not have to wait for somebody to "come up with the milk in the morning." Why did it not still the waters with some of its own cargo?

NO OFFICIAL SLUSH.

If St. Louis is to have a municipal paper under the new charter, there ought not to be any question of the kind of paper it should be. It is merely a question of the advisability of the city's having a medium for the publication of the municipal records to which the public shall have access, instead of paying for their publication in a daily paper.

It might be advantageous to issue such a municipal bulletin with complete information about legislation and public work. The published record in such a publication would be complete and could be issued in attractive cheap form. It might be convenient and economical for both the city and for those who want to keep in touch with municipal work.

The advisability of publishing an organ of the administration to "boost" officials is not worth discussing. Opinions of an editor appointed by the Mayor about the Mayor's administration or any of his appointees would not be worth the paper on which they were printed. A "boosting organ" would be ridiculous.

St. Louisans are not so foolish as to approve the expenditure of money for official slush.

The 14 candidates for Governor of Texas, most of them running on the prohibition issue, remind one of old man Silver in "Treasure Island," and his favorite chanty, "Sixteen men on the dead man's chest; yo, ho, ho, and a bottle of rum!"

PRAISECHING AND MINING.

A Calumet preacher, explaining the apparent lack of sympathy for the striking miners on the part of his brethren in that district, says the preachers' average pay "does not exceed that of the miners," and yet the ministers have not struck for higher pay, but remain decent, law-abiding and contented.

This preacher should remember that the miner has no Ladies' Aid Society to look after his comfort and furnish him with embroidered slippers and other things more sustaining. It is all in the point of view.

"This is the day of the Trappist in politics," declared Bullmoose Bainbridge Colby of New York before a St. Louis audience. Even so ascetic and austere a Trappist, under the vow of perpetual silence, as the Colonel.

Perhaps the smile on Mona Lisa's face was due to the fact that she knew all these years that the time would come when all interests in Europe would be subordinated to her publicity.

In Warden McClung engaged in a wily attempt to divert the public from his mismanagement of the State Penitentiary to his wily literary style?

New York, too, got some advertising by offering Col. Goethals a municipal job, which he, of course, declined.

The Supreme Court of Missouri has decided that the head is part of the body. We think so. We cannot remember when we have seen a head going around without a body, or a body getting about without a head. The court is on solid ground there.

It might be said that grapejuice has come to stay as truly as Dr. Barthold is going to remain gone.

ANSWERS TO QUERIES

CLEANING.
FRANCES—Cover wine stains with salt while they are fresh and at the earliest opportunity pour boiling water through them. Salts of ammonia mixed with lime will take out stains of wine from silk. Spirits of turpentine is equally good.

O—Auto grease: For garments that can be laundered, wet all spots with kerosene oil or turpentine, roll tightly and let stand several hours before laundering. On woollen clothing, clean spots with gasoline, rub with gasoline, then with toilet soap, and finish with clean gasoline.

E. C. P.—Vellie suit is washable. White corn meal or flour is used to dry-clean white or any light shade of woollen goods, also for white crochet and knitted articles. Place the article to be cleaned in a large vessel and cover with white corn meal or flour; add 10 cents' worth of powdered borax; use the same movement as in washing with water; shake well and brush in the open air. Repeat the process if necessary.

STYLISHNESS.
STUPID—Muffs may be worn hanging from either arm.

RING—Tiffany styles of engagement rings may be chosen at any time; a Tiffany might or might not be preferred.

WEDDING—When young man cannot accept invitation to dance, an escort he should notify both hostess and young lady.

HEALTHY HINTS.
TROUBLED. Scalp eruptions: Try a lotion made from three drams pure glycerin, and four ounces lime water, the latter being both antiseptic and astringent. The two, thoroughly mixed, are applied to the scalp, night and morning, two or three times, trying to wet the hair as little as possible with the preparation. Before beginning with this it is well to shampoo and the work should be done by another person. The best method is to divide the scalp into four parts, and into every division as it is made there may be rubbed a little carbolized vasoline. The scalp should be made to take up all it can. Following that, two raw eggs, beaten with a tablespoonful of water, not hot-water are well rubbed over the scalp and hair, the roots. Washing is done in clear water, much rubbing being required to bring out the grease. As soon as the head has been dried the glycerin and lime water are applied. If carefully done the application will not be more than a week. At the end of two weeks of morning and nightly application of glycerin and lime water, it is well to use a pomade made from half an ounce oil of mass, one ounce coconut oil, one and one-half ounces clarified beeswax, and one-half ounce of each of the following: lavender, mint, rosemary, sage and thyme. Following these, half an ounce of rectified spirits and two drams of balsam of tolu are put in a bottle and shaken. The mixture is stirred until "set." It is massaged in, and is an excellent dressing, as well as healing cream. Once a week, three different times, while using this the scalp should be thoroughly cleaned with the glycerin and lime water, and the hair should be washed with soap and water. The hair should be washed with soap and water. The hair should be washed with soap and water.

HOUSEHOLD HELPS.
ANSWER SOON—A six-course dinner would comprise the following dishes: Soup, roast, turkey, fish, vegetables, fruit, and dessert.

PANCAKE—Wheat pancakes: Sift together 3 times over 1/4 cups flour, 2 even teaspoons salt, Add 3 tablespoons melted butter, 1/2 or 3/4 eggs well beaten and a pinch of soda. Mix thoroughly and bake. The eggs may be omitted when eggs are high, substituting 1/4 cup of milk.

MISCELLANEOUS.
TATTOO—We advise nothing as to tattoo marks.

R—Try writing Treasury Department in regard to credit research and income tax publications.

BEE—For bee information write College of Agriculture, Agriculture, Washington, D. C., or see books in Public Library.

R. M. B.—Don't send us "cheatons." Any man, of any religion, if he is a citizen of the United States, 21 years old, and has resided here 14 years, may be President every 4 years of his life.

FARMER'S WIFE—If Missouri were over to "go dry," people would doubtless still get their wine and grape juice for their own use from their own grapes. Anyhow, they would not be better off than now.

Don't worry. (Uncle Sam furnishes the White House. Woodrow didn't want to move his furniture from New Jersey.)

OSCAR—First prize in "First Rate of Baltimore" (1913) was awarded William H. Smith of Baltimore. The other prizes were won by the following: Second prize, Le Fevre, Miss Florence Evans, Edward Patterson, Laura.

W. W. Kragg—Miss White, J. V. Kragg, William Anson, Frank Richards.

R. T.—A 6-volt battery is suitable for 6-volt lamps only. For each candle power 1 1/2 volts Tungsten lamps take approximately 4 amperes and carbon lamps 2-3 amperes. A 6-candle power 6-volt Tungsten lamp would take 1 1/2 amperes for each hour it is burning. A 6-volt 10-ampere home battery would burn one 6-candle power, 6-volt Tungsten lamp about 11 hours or 2 lamp 11 hours.

President of United Railways, and President McChesney of the Terminal. Capt. McCulloch told me that he would consider any fair compromise that came to him from the proper city authorities.

"McChesney seemed disinclined, under present conditions, to consider the matter of a compromise. He said that the bridge arbitrary was now before the Interstate Commerce Commission, and that as the city had rejected the Ter-

My only object was to bring about, if I could, a settlement that would be fair to both the city and the two big corporations, thereby terminating the long-standing controversies, and at the same time getting money enough to complete the bridge, which, in its present condition, is a disgrace to the city.

Mayor Eager for Action.

"The Mayor seemed to be eager to do something to get the city out of the rut, and so did the members of the Assembly with whom I discussed the subject.

"No details of a plan of compromise either with the railways company or the Terminal have been worked out. In a general way, I thought if we could settle the mill tax litigation by accepting $1,000,000, and by granting the railways company some concessions in the matter of its franchisees, it would be a good thing.

"I thought also if some plan could be agreed upon by which the Ranken tract serrets could be vacated so the company could utilize the land for additional facilities, badly needed, and by which it would pay to the city approximately $1,000,000, that would also be a good thing.

Capt. McCulloch of the United Railways said Deekman called to see him with reference to the proposed compromise.

"I wish to have it distinctly understood," said Capt. McCulloch to the reporter, "that the matter of a compromise was not initiated by me, or by anyone else representing the company. After the proposed compromise was defeated by the Assembly two years ago,

"I told him that the United Railways Co. would consider any proposition that came from the proper city officials."

With respect to the full page advertisements published in the newspapers

Recently by the United Railways Capt. McCulloch said the object of the advertising was not to pave the way for a compromise of the mill tax litigation. He said the company was spending all its money, and exerting all its energies to giving St. Louis the best street car service possible, and that the object of the advertising was to acquaint the public with these facts.

United Railways Co. on virtually the same terms as contained in the compromise proposed two years ago, which was widely denounced and defeated in the Municipal Assembly, has aroused public curiosity as to how the new proposition came to be initiated.

The suggestion of a compromise of the mill tax litigation, and also of a compromise between the city and the Terminal Railroad Association, by the terms of which the Terminal would receive authority to occupy and improve the Ranken tract, was made recently in a statement to the newspapers by George E. Dieckman of the brokerage firm of Wernse & Dieckman.

Dleckman said that the idea of a compromise between the city and United Railways and the Terminal grew out of the fight that he made, as president of the Zoological Society, for the bill to establish a zoo in Forest Park.

"In making the fight for that bill I was thrown into contact with the Mayor and members of the Municipal Assembly,"

"After we had won, some of the members of the Assembly suggested to me that I ought to help them complete the free bridge. Out of this suggestion came the proposition to compromise the mill tax plan for approximately $200,000."

tax claims for approximately $1,000,000 and to compromise with the Terminal for $1,000,000. If these sums of money could be realized from the two corporations in the settlement of the controversies that have been in progress for many years, it was thought the money could be used to good advantage in completing the bridge.

"The first definite proposition of a mill tax and Terminal compromise was made to me by Nathan Hall, member of the House of Delegates. I discussed it with him, with Delegates McCarthy, Gellagher and others, and also with Councilman Lazarus and Arendes and some other members of the upper body.

"I then went to Mayor Kiel and asked him whether he would entertain a proposition to compromise with United Railways and the Terminal. He assured me that if a compromise could be arranged that would be fair to the city he would favor it:

"I then went to see Capt. McCulloch.

Mr. Jarr Strives to Infuse Ginger Into a Gingerless Social Affair.

"D O we have to drink all this claret punch?" asked John W. Rangle of Edward Jarr as the dashing young matron, Mrs. Clara Mudridge-Smith, was making a diaphanous show of herself in a solo dance at Mrs. Jarr's party to the two Misses Cackleberry.

"Not we alone. I think no participant in this affair is to go unpunished," replied Mr. Jarr. "But here's a good chance to dip Mr. Pinkfinger's rubber overbores in the flowing bowl (I can see them stuck under the sofa), and thus get away with a bunch of it."

"No, that won't do," advised Mr. Rangle. "I'll tell you what: while they are watching the dance of the daffy dame let us spike the punch!"

"The bottle of the Old Stuff!" murmured Mr. Jarr as one comprehending. And while the others were intently watching Mrs. Clara Mudridge-Smith display how she had burned up a lot of her husband's good money taking fancy dancing lessons the two miscreants crept out to the kitchen and returned with the bottle of the Old Stuff and slipped its contents among the agricultural products in the flowing bowl.

"And now you must be fatigued!" cried Mrs. Jarr to Mrs. Mudridge-Smith as the dance of Seven Maledictions came to an end. "Take a glass of punch!"

Then all the victims of that deadly upas tree, so to speak, of society-claret-claret-punch-gathered around. Eyes were bright, lips were laughing. It was with a strong effort Mr. Jarr controlled the impulse to warn the revelers are yet too late. But ere the fatal cups could be quaffed, a tall stranger—many of them—entered and exclaimed:

"Here! Wait for me!"

"The compliments of the season!" cried Dr. Gilbert Gummy, who was always there with such a ready wit that, being an unmarried man, all the ladies constantly greeted his remarks with a chorus of "Isn't he the dreadful thing?" So adroit!

The concerted attack on the spiked decoction had put quite a dent in it when a great stir was caused by the arrival of Jack Silver, who had been the Jarr family's star wealthy young bachelor for many years.

"It's Jack Silver!" murmured all the ladies.

"Yes, and you should see the big racing car he came in!" remarked Miss Terwilliger, who was looking out of the window.

"Is he a promoter?" asked Mr. Rangle. "The personal advertisement of the promoter who have survived the recent stringencies and exposures is always a hundred-and-twenty horse-power racing car. The promoter also generally brings along a boasting jackal who nudges you in the ribs and says, 'Pity my friend's car! That's the one that won the Silver Skull awarded by the Coffin Timmers' Convention for

"I never saw such a man. You've gone and forgotten my birthday again!"

"How can you blame me dear? There's not a thing about you is remind me that you're a day older than you were last year!"

the fastest time on a circular track. Why, that car has killed 57 people."

"He's all right, I tell you. Don't you worry about him!" retorted Mr. Jarr. "Why, I have known him for 15 years and he's always had a Japanese valet. A Japanese Government college student spy, I tell Jack, but he doesn't seem to care," added Mr. Jarr.

Then turning to the newcomer and crying aloud that all might hear, Mr. Jack exclaimed:

"Hello, Jack, old chap! How is Suk-kosah!"

If you have a wealthy bachelor friend you must always ask him out loud first about his Jap valet. Some class, what? The two Misses Cackleberry turned upon the dashing, professional rich young bachelor as the sunflowers turn to the sun. Both held out to him the crimson cup that, after it has been spiked as these had, adds like an adder and viper like a viper.

A murmur of appreciation arose on all sides when it was seen that the wealthy young bachelor could and did drink claret punch like ordinary people.

"You must all drink with me," cried the dashing Jack Silver.

And once again the poison cup was quaffed.

It was the Jarr's punch, but everybody felt as though the millionaire had brewed it himself regardless of cost.

Out Off a Quarter's Worth.

HOW much do you charge for cutting off a dog's tail?" said a small boy to a veterinary recently, exhibiting a quarter in one hand and leading a lean canine with the other.

"The operation customarily costs a dollar, but I will do it for you for 50 cents," replied the gentleman addressed.

The boy looked at the coin in his hand disappointedly for a moment, but his face brightened. He stuck out his hand which contained the coin and said: "That's all I've got. Cut off a quarter's worth."—September National Monthly.
